Dear owner, please read and follow carefully:

Drivers must strictly abide by traffic regulations out of respect for the rights of others and to minimize risks of traffic-sections. The regis keeper is responsible for any traffic offenses and penalties. Regardless of who drives the vehicle, the responsibility shall remain with the edents The registered registered keeper.

1 It is your duty to protect the number plate. You are therefore required to:

A) Always keep the number plate clean and legible, take care that it is fitted properly.

B) Report any loss of or damage to the vehicle license or number plate to your nearest police station. Apply for a replacement license or number plate through vehicle transfer centers or traffic police within 48 hours of any loss or damage incident.

3) Any official sale or transfer of a vehicle needs to take place through vehicle transfer centers. Both buyers and sellers should visit the center and take the vehicle with them. They will also need to present personal identity documents including an original national identity card, birth certificate, compulsory military service completion or permanent exemption card (if applicable) as well as the vehicle documents such as the ownership document, vehicle license, MOT certificates, and road tax payment certificates.

A) You are strongly recommended to apply for an official transfer in the city of residence of the new keeper as it can expedite the process.

B) As number plates are itsued to owners rather than to the vehicles, they are removed and exchanged when transferred to a new owner. This is done in the transfer center premises under police supervision.

4) The vehicle license is sent to the registered keeper's residence address and so are any official correspondence. The traffic law thereby requires vehicle owners to inform any change of address by filling in the 'Address Change Form' provided with the vehicle license. Send the completed form to the traffic authority named on the form within 48 hours of the change of address.
